Construction Projects as School Resumes on Aug. 16

Albany Street and County Line Road

The improvements to widen Albany St. (61st) between Lynn Lane and County Line Rd., and the improvements at the intersection of Albany St. and County Line Rd. are underway as classes resume for the 2023-24 school year. This project is expected to be complete in spring 2024.

What you need to know for the start of school.

Left turns are not allowed in the intersection. This restriction will continue while the improvements in the southwest corner, followed by the southeast corner, are constructed. East and west bound traffic on Albany St. will be in the two lanes on the north side of the street. Entering and exiting the schools will be available from Albany St. North and south bound traffic on County Line Rd. will be in the two lanes on the east side of the street as you approach the intersection.

County Line Road between Kenosha (71st) and Houston (81st) streets

The improvements here include a new bridge over Highway 51 and the widening of County Line Rd. to five lanes. This project is expected to be complete in spring 2024.

What you need to know for the start of school.

County Line Rd. is open for through traffic, however, it is a construction area, so travel may be slow. College Street is closed where it intersects with County Line Rd. due to improvements to sanitary sewer infrastructure. Left turns at the intersection of County Line Rd. and Houston St. are not permitted.
